Remarks:

This CRE concerns an officer-involved shooting in the Del Taco parking lot of the Las Posas and 101 shopping center in Camarillo on October 22, 2001. I have concluded that the officers who fired (Reyes, Nelson and Tougas) did so in justifiable self-defense. This conclusion is based on the submitted reports, the surveillance videotape and personal observations made by myself and supervising investigator Dave Stone. Both myself and Investigator Stone went to the scene after the shooting and observed the walk-throughs conducted at the time by the Sheriff's Department.

control in light of the circumstances. The officers involved are to be congratulated for their self-control and careful actions in a public place.

All the officers gave full statements and walk-throughs and are to be congratulated for their forthrightness in assisting the investigation.

After a thorough review, I have concluded that the officers' actions were both legally justified and commendably rendered. Charges have been filed against Rubio and Camez by our office, so no public report will be produced.

Police identify two arrested in drug bust

From staff reports

Police identified two men Tuesday arrested after they reportedly tried to flee police during a drug bust in Camarillo, prompting police to open fire in a busy shopping center.

An undercover officer suffered minor injuries when one suspect allegedly rammed the officer with his car.

The men were identified as Alejandro Rubio, 25, and Peter Camez, 20, both of Wilmington.

Rubio was arrested on suspicion of assault on a police officer, possession of a concealed weapon, sale of a controlled substance and drug possession.

Camez was arrested on suspicion of conspiracy, sale of a controlled substance, and drug possession. Both were being held in the Ventura County Jail in lieu of $500,000 bail.

The unidentified officer who was hit by the car was treated and released at a local hospital Monday, said Eric Nishimoto, a spokesman for the Ventura County Sheriff's Department.

Undercover officers from the Ventura County Narcotics Task Force had arranged to meet the men at the Camarillo Town Center at Las Posas Road and Ventura Boulevard to buy 4 pounds of crystal methamphetamine, authorities said.

When the officers tried to make an arrest, the men drove away, striking one of the officers, police said. The officers fired multiple shots at them, Nishimoto said. No one was struck and there were no reports of property damage.

The shooting at 4 p.m. in the busy shopping center sent many people ducking for cover at nearby restaurants. Nishimoto said that while police never intend to place innocent people at risk, some undercover operations in public places are unavoidable.

"As much as we want to keep all criminal elements away from the public, people who work in the drug trade don't always work in the shadows," he said.

Crowd Ducks as Police Fire on Drug Suspects

Crime: The two are arrested. Undercover officers act after their truck is rammed in the Camarillo shopping center lot.

By HOLLY J. WOLCOTT
and MARGARETTALEV
TIMES STAFF WRITERS

Undercover officers opened fire on two drug suspects at a crowded Camarillo shopping center Monday after the suspects rammed their police truck.

Neither suspect was shot and both were arrested. A Ventura police officer suffered minor injuries when his unmarked pickup was rammed, authorities said.

"As soon as I heard all of those gunshots, I took off running. It was absolutely crazy," said James Kline, a Fresno County resident who had just finished lunch at the Camarillo Town Center on Las Posas Road.

A Ventura County Sheriff's Department spokeswoman said the two undercover officers on a multi-agency drug task force had followed the suspects from Los Angeles.

Shortly after 4 p.m., the suspects allegedly began driving erratically around the parking lot and then struck the officers' pickup.

"That's when we opened fire," Senior Deputy Renee Ferguson said.

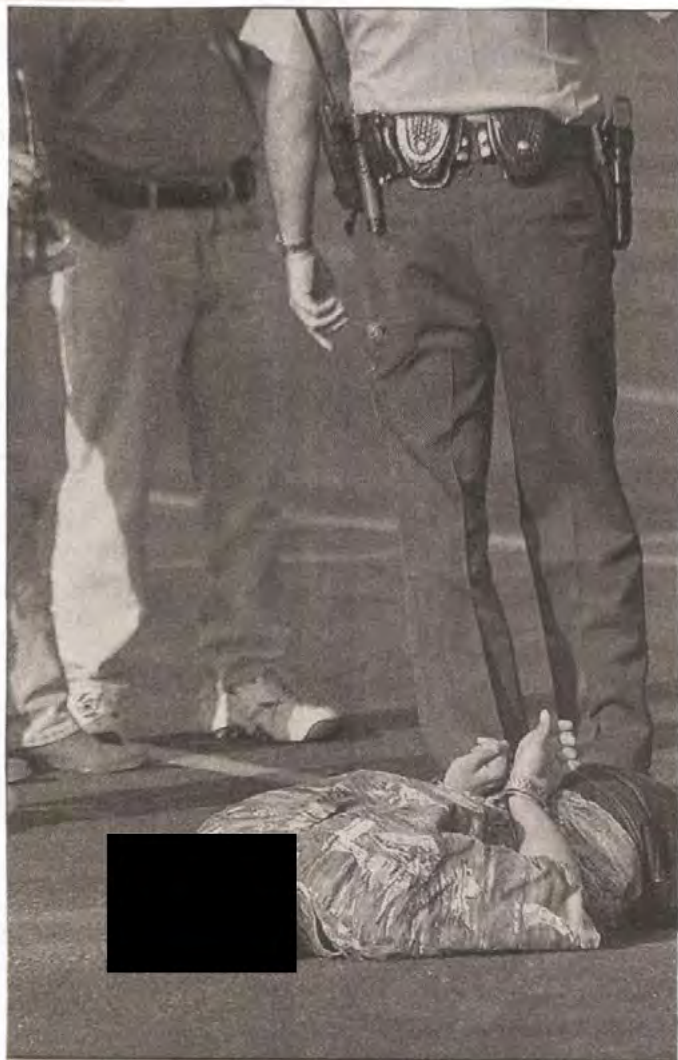

Witnesses, many of whom dove under cars or ran from the giant parking lot, reported hearing at least five shots. Pete Medina, a Wendy's manager, said several customers ducked under tables. A few in the drive-through lane fled without paying or getting their food, he said.

Ferguson refused to say how many shots were fired or whether any drugs were found. Citing the ongoing and sensitive nature of the case, the names of the suspects were withheld even after they were arrested, Ferguson said.

Police cordoned off the parking lot in front of a Del Taco, where much of the shooting occurred. Some shoppers said they were curious about an undercover drug bust unraveling at such a busy site.

"If they get drugs off the street and no deputies get hurt, I have no problem with it," said Vivian Wammack, 22, of Camarillo, adding that she has no illusions about the presence of crime in Ventura County. "It's not safe anywhere," she said.

Times staff writer Jenifer Ragland contributed to this report.

Drug bust ends in chase, arrests

CAMARILLO: Two men arrested at shopping center after shots fired, car driven into police officer.

Staff writer

An undercover drug operation that began in Los Angeles ended in Camarillo on Monday with one police officer injured and two men arrested.

Lying face down and handcuffed in the Del Taco parking lot of the Camarillo Town Center shortly after 4 p.m. was an unidentified man police were investigating for dealing crystal methamphetamine.

He was sprawled next to a car with a crumpled front driver's side.

"When he tried to get away, he ran the officer over," Camarillo Police Chief David Tennesen said.

Officials aren't saying whether the men were armed and are not releasing their identities. Both were arrested and will be taken to Ventura County Jail on charges of attempted homicide, assault with a deadly weapon, transporting a controlled substance, possession of a controlled substance for sale and conspiracy.

Officers from the Ventura County Narcotics Task Force had arranged to meet the man and another man in the parking lot of the center near Las Posas Road and Ventura Boulevard. But when officers tried to arrest them the plan took an unexpected turn.

"We heard eight shots and a car screeching," Kaycee Gilbert said, who was sitting in Del Taco with friends.

The driver slammed his car into a Ventura police officer, which prompted deputies to fire.

"They rammed our officer with their vehicle, which is a deadly weapon," said Senior Deputy Renee Ferguson, a spokeswoman for the Ventura County Sheriff's Department.

Witnesses said they saw both men run from the car.

Battalion Chief Rod Sims with the Ventura County Fire Department said a suspect also was taken to the hospital.

The officer was taken to St. John's Regional Medical Center in Oxnard, where he is expected to be treated and released.
